

Alisha Aggarwal

Currently on Maternity Leave, prior to maternity leave I worked with The Government of Canada (Public Health Agency of Canada) – Manager, Quarantine Services

Dear PPNO Executive Board,

My interest in serving as an Executive Board member is rooted in my commitment to advancing the nursing profession while upholding the highest standards of patient care in Ontario. My solid educational foundation with an RN, MN, and MBA along with a wealth of experience in healthcare leadership and management of professional practice, research and education brings a unique blend of clinical knowledge and business acumen to the table. As a potential board member, I aim to leverage my experience to contribute to the growth of PPNO by working towards its mission to promote evidence-based practice and enhancing the professional development of teams. I am particularly enthusiastic about establishing networks across Ontario to gain insights from others on client care requirements and the most effective ways to navigate the intricate healthcare system to address the associated challenges. This collaborative approach aligns with my commitment to fostering collaboration and driving positive change within PPNO. Looking to the future, I envision PPNO as a dynamic and influential force in fostering collaboration across healthcare sectors and championing the professional growth of professional leaders. I am committed to work with the appropriate team members and stakeholders to help PPNO evolve and lead the way in setting new standards. Overall, my passion for nursing, combined with my educational and leadership experience make me a valuable asset to the PPNO Executive team.

Sincerely,

Alisha Aggarwal